1. Summary

- 1.1 This document establishes the Brewarrina Shire Council's policy with respect to the publication and disclosure of information held by Brewarrina Shire Council. The policy details and internally assigns Brewarrina Shire Council's responsibilities under the Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009 (GIPA).

2. Purpose and Scope

- 2.1 To update council's existing Freedom of Information Policy to reflect the replacement of Section 12 of the Local Government Act 1993 and the Freedom of Information Act 1989 with the Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009.
- 2.2 This policy applies to all information held by Brewarrina Shire Council and details the manner in which Brewarrina Shire Council discharges its obligations under the GIPA Act. In addition, the policy aims to promote Brewarrina Shire Council's commitment to open and transparent governance generally.

3. Background and context

- 3.1 On 1 July 2010 the Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009 came into effect, replacing the former Freedom of Information Act & Section 12 of the Local Government Act.

The new legislation:

- creates new rights to information that are designed to meet community expectations of more open and transparent government
- encourages government agencies to proactively release government information.

Access to information collected and held by Brewarrina Shire Council is now made available in accordance with the provisions of the Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009. The Act creates an enforceable right to information unless there is an overriding public interest against disclosure.

Many of the provisions of the Act are consistent with councils existing Freedom of Information policy. The key differences include:

- mandatory and non mandatory proactive release where council is required to publish certain information on the internet and is encouraged to make as much information available as possible;
- informal release, making access simpler for easy requests; and
- formal release, which is similar to the previous FOI regime.

4. Legislative requirements

- 4.1 Pursuant to section 4 of the Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009, Brewarrina Shire Council is deemed to be a public authority for the purposes of the GIPA Act and is therefore subject to its provisions.

4.2 Council's functions are specified in the Local Government Act 1993, Chapter 5. While the main function of Council are provided under this Act, Council also has functions under other Acts and Regulations (refer to Brewarrina Shire Council Publication Guide - Legislation & Regulations that Empower Council).
